Repairs, maintenance and inspections for construction equipment.

Service and technical support provided by highly experienced specialists.

Repairs, maintenance, and inspections are a core component of Protehnica's activity, being essential for the continuous operation of the construction and industrial equipment. Protehnica provides service both for distributed equipment and for other brands.

Service interventions are carried out either in our own workshop or directly at the client's site for heavy or stationary equipment, such as pumps, generators, compressors, or other industrial machinery. Our technical teams consist of specialists with decades of experience, capable of responding quickly and efficiently.

Through preventive maintenance, periodic inspections, and corrective repairs, Protehnica supports its clients in reducing downtime, extending equipment service life, and maintaining operational safety and continuity.

Comprehensive after-sales services designed to ensure project continuity.

Multi-brand service for construction equipment

Protehnica provides repair services for a wide range of construction machinery and equipment, regardless of the equipment brand.

Spare parts for a wide range of products

Protehnica supplies spare parts for an extensive range of machinery and equipment, offering efficient solutions to maintain operational continuity.

On-site service for stationary equipment

Protehnica delivers on-site service interventions at the client's premises for large-scale or stationary equipment, where continuous operation is critical.

Rental equipment available during repair processes.

Protehnica offers rental equipment during repair processes, allowing clients to continue their activities without interruption.

Team of technicians with decades of experience

Protehnica relies on a team of highly experienced technicians, capable of handling complex interventions and delivering reliable solutions for a wide variety of equipment.

Pre & post-sales technical support and on-demand assistance

We provide technical support and rapid assistance for equipment in operation, offering continuous support for the client's repair or operational staff.
